

Atomic Blast Set Off by U. S. in the Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — A missile with an atomic warhead was fired into the Pacific skies from Johnston Island today. The test shot illuminated the heavens and was seen brightly by thousands in Hawaii, 700 miles to the north-east.

The massive flaring in the sky was awesome. Monica McKeehin, Waikiki vacationer from Daly City, Calif., told of clearly seeing the ball of fire from Waikiki Beach and asked, "Would you advise me to leave?" She was told not to be alarmed.

Two air line pilots on a flight from Honolulu saw the explosion which may have occurred at an altitude of 100 miles.

Capt. Jack Urner and co-pilot Eugene Wolf said the sky appeared to erupt at 12:52 a.m. Hawaii time as a bright flash cut through the darkness in the south-west.

It appeared to them as a towering kind of cloud which climbed swiftly and was topped off by another mushroom cloud that increased in height and width.

At that height the blast possibly was on the fringe of space. Urner said: "It was of great magnitude with a beautiful red glow which slowly dissipated into a white glow."

Twenty minutes after the flash the fliers could see a red fringe around the slowly fading mushroom cloud.

Honolulu police said they began getting telephone calls about the blast at 12:55 a.m. from that moment they were swamped.

All shipping and air traffic had been warned Thursday. A stay clear of Johnston Island. The "stand clear" order, embracing an area with a radius of 5 miles from the island, was effective between 10 p.m. Hawaii time, and 6 a.m. today.

An official announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department said only that a test detonation of a nuclear warhead in a missile occurred above the island, 700 miles south.

A KISS FOR RICKY — Mrs. Gladys Thompson forgot to kiss her son Ricky, 3, goodbye when she left her home in Milwaukee, Wis., for her second shift job. But Ricky didn't forget. Three hours later he walked into the plant where she works and told a guard his mommy had forgotten to kiss him goodbye and wanted her to come and do it. A quick check was made and Ricky got his kiss. "From now on," Mrs. Thompson promised, "Ricky will be kissed goodbye." — NEA Telephone

Ike Is Ready to Attend Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is ready to attend a summit session of the U. N. Security Council within two weeks to seek ways of stabilizing conditions in the Middle East.

His reply along that line is expected to go today to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. It includes a sharp rejection of Soviet charges.

Secretary of State Dulles said the real danger of war in the Middle East area is due to indirect aggression.

"If the Soviet Union does not want war they will almost have to agree that these practices should be brought under some kind of control by the United Nations," he said.

From the U. S. point of view, the proposed conference is shaping up as a diplomatic battle in which Khrushchev will try to prove his charges of U. S. aggression against Lebanon and Jordan and Eisenhower will try to prove Soviet-backed indirect aggression against several Middle East states.

The President's newest letter to forth in strong terms his views on the Middle East crisis and Soviet world policies. Specifically he was reported rejecting what he considers the Soviets aim of setting up a great power summit conference to dictate to smaller nations what they should do.

Officials said he is insisting on working through the U. N. Security Council and turning down flatly the idea of world rule by the great nations.

They said he was leaving open the question of where the projected meeting should be held, since he is willing to have it either in New York or in some suitable European city—but not Moscow.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette became a target of segregationist spitefulness because it reported "hard truths" about the Central High School crisis that some readers didn't want to face.

Executive Editor Harry S. Ashmore said yesterday.

Ashmore told a civic club that a responsible newspaper must always contend with such factors.

He said the Gazette, which opposed Gov. Orval Faubus' use of state guardsmen to keep nine Negroes out of Central High, had recognized that a clash with the federal government over racial integration was inevitable some where in the South.

This became evident after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled in 1954 for school desegregation. Ashmore said. He said that Gazette predictions about the consequences of such a clash were unpopular with some Arkansans.

The editor and his newspaper received Pulitzer awards for journalistic work during the Little Rock crisis.

Faubus attacked Ashmore and the Gazette in the strongest terms during his recent victorious bid for a third term.

Minor Damage in Accident Here

On South Main Street this morning an auto driven by Wanda Youngblood ran onto the highway from a side street and hit another vehicle driven by Wayne Camp. Both autos had tender bumper, door and grill damage, according to investigating Officers Rowe and Shirley.

Faubus Didn't Get Away as Expected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus didn't get away on that planned vacation yesterday but he definitely intended to hear for Lake Norfolk and about a week's fishing before today was over.

Faubus went back to his office yesterday for the first time since July 1, the opening date of his victorious campaign for re-election to a third term.

He spent most of the time at the Capitol in reading messages of congratulation on his triumph in the Democratic primary and meeting well-wishers.

Faubus will be accompanied on his trip to the lake by his wife and son and Mrs. Howard Cain, secretary-housekeeper at the executive mansion.

Ike Offers to Meet in Not to Khrushchev

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower wrote Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that he is seeking a summit meeting of the U. N. Security Council about Aug. 12 in New York or elsewhere and he hopes Khrushchev will attend.

In a letter to the Soviet government chief, Eisenhower sharply challenged what he said was Khrushchev's effort to set up a system of big-power dictation such as "you imposed in Eastern Europe."

"The United States cannot accept that point of view," Eisenhower wrote, in declaring that a meeting of heads of government on the Middle East crisis must be held within the framework of the U. N. Security Council.

Eisenhower rejected Khrushchev's contention that the central trouble in the Middle East at the moment is "aggression" by the United States against Lebanon.

The real problem, the President said, is "the threat by others, of further indirect aggression against independent states."

"This problem is clearly the responsibility of the United Nations Security Council," he said.

Therefore, he told Khrushchev, he is instructing U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the United Nations to seek a special Security Council meeting about Aug. 12 which would bring together government chiefs and foreign ministers.

Eisenhower expressed the hope that Khrushchev would take similar action.

Execution of Leggett Is Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today set Aug. 22 for the execution of Emmett Earl Leggett and Luther Bailey.

Leggett, 21, was convicted of the December 1955 strangulation death of Joe King, 14-year-old stepson of a sergeant stationed at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

Bailey, a Negro, was convicted of robbing and robbing a Little Rock white woman.

The U. S. Supreme Court refused to interfere in either conviction, both of which were upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Faubus granted Leggett several stays while the youth underwent extensive mental examinations. He was pronounced sane by State Hospital psychiatrists.

"This is the most difficult thing I have had to do among all the problems," Faubus said. "But their cases have been reviewed and turned down by the highest courts and I have no alternative but to set the dates."

Another Steel Co. Increases Prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. today boosted more steel prices, in the wake of selective increase by the industry Thursday.

Republic announced in Cleveland an increase of approximately 3 per cent in prices of bars, rods, pipe and wire.

Increases announced earlier this week, and now posted by every major producer, had affected only flat rolled products.

Falcon Church of Christ Plan Revival

Special services will start at the Falcon Church of Christ on August 2 with Elmer Dixon of Murrensboro doing the preaching Sunday and Sunday night. Dinner will be served at noon. Singing will make up the afternoon program. Monday the 4th through August 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 1958, will preach daily. Harold Paul of Palmers will have charge of the singing. The church is on Highway 53, eight miles south of Bodcay.

Spring Hill Meet Starts Sunday

A revival meeting will start at the Spring Hill Methodist Church, Sunday, August 3, with the Rev. J. R. Callahan doing the preaching. Services will start nightly at 8 o'clock.

Social Security Bill Pressure Is Mounting

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate pressures mounted today for quick action on a bill to increase Social Security pensions by 7 per cent in the wake of a 375-2 House vote for the measure.

Some senators said they did not believe their branch could run the political risk of adjourning the 85th Congress without acting on the legislation.

The higher payments had strong election-year appeal despite the bill's provision for a series of tax increases to finance the changes.

Taxes on many workers would go up $25.50 next year and another $24 the following year as part of the stepped-up tax schedule.

The House rushed the bill to the Senate after only a few hours' debate. Representatives Noah Mason (R-Ill.) and Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) cast the only no votes.

The measure would boost monthly payments for the 12 million beneficiaries now receiving Social Security insurance checks, and provide higher payments for those retiring in future years.

The benefit increases would take effect Nov. 1 if the bill becomes law in August. Taxes would go up next Jan. 1.

The big obstacle to the bill in the Senate appeared to be the push of business before the Finance Committee, which must handle it. That group already has on its schedule three bulky bills as well as President Eisenhower's request for another hike in the debt limit.

In addition to revamping the Social Security insurance payments, the bill also would increase by 288 million dollars annually federal grants to the states for public assistance programs. These programs provide aid for needy aged, blind and disabled persons.

The chief provisions of the bill would raise old age, survivors and disability benefits under Social Security insurance by 7 per cent with a minimum of $3 a month.

For individuals on the retired rolls, the monthly checks would range from $33 to $118 a month, as compared with $30 to $108.50 now. In the future, the maximum payment would reach $127.

The payroll tax, now 2 1/2 per cent each for employer and employee on a $4,200 wage base, would be upped to 2 1/2 per cent on a $4,800 base next year.

Another one half per cent would be added in 1960, and the rate would reach 4 1/2 per cent each by 1969 instead of 4 1/2 per cent in 1975 as under present law.

The rate for the self-employed, now 3 per cent, would go to 3 1/2 per cent and 6 1/2 in 1969.

HD Council Hears About China Dolls

The history of China head dolls by Mrs. J. C. Carlton and a film "The Day Called X" shown by George Bell, district Civil Defense coordinator, were the highlights of the Home Demonstration Council meeting held at the Palmos School, Thursday, July 31.

Mrs. Carlton, who started her collection in 1942, has 161 dolls. Some of her favorite character dolls are "Dolly" Madison, Nancy Hanks, Mary Todd Lincoln, and Ginny Lynn. One doll with pierced ears was wearing a pair of earrings Mrs. Carlton wore when she was a small girl. Another doll in her collection was 150 years old when she bought it 10 years ago.

Mrs. Carlton pointed out that the material in her doll dresses was material from dresses originally worn by some member of her family. She also told of the enjoyment she had received from her hobby of collecting dolls and urged every one to have a hobby of some kind.

Mr. John Wilson, county Civil Defense Coordinator, introduced Mr. Bell who showed the film and explained the work of civil defense. Mr. Bell also encouraged every one to set up a modern grandmother's pantry in case of an attack.

The Victory and DeAnn 4-H clubs presented the following program: Pantomime — "Born to Late", Sandra Burke, Joan and Becky Willis, Victory; Pantomime — "Jailhouse Rock", Bruce Burke and his Jull Birds, DeAnn; Hula dance, Penny and Bruce Burke, DeAnn; and a playlet, "Open a Can of Beans," DeAnn.

The following business was dispensed: rules and regulations for the 4-H fund were adopted; plans were made for the council to pay the expenses for each Home Demonstration Club president to attend one day at the State Home Demonstration Club meeting to be held at Magnolia August 12-15; and for the council to send Mrs. Ernest Graham, council president, to the National Home Demonstration Club meeting at Wichita, Kansas, in October.

Mrs. Graham appointed Mrs. Claude Bitlock, Mrs. J. C. Prosser of McCaskill, and Mrs. Floyd Harris, Sr. of Rocky Mount as a committee to work up the educational exhibit at the 4-States Fair and the Third District Livestock Show.

Mrs. J. E. McWilliams gave the devotional Dividends from Difficulties by using as her scripture Psalms 41. Group singing was led by Mrs. Graham accompanied by Mrs. Roy Sewald. Pollock was served at noon with the Hinton Home Demonstration Club serving as hostess club.

The fire, still burning out of control, had aroused the passions of a mob. Some apparently thought the fire in the British-owned oil compound was aimed at the new republic.

He said all were being questioned, "as is normally the case in such circumstances." He did not identify those held but said two were seen running from the fire. He added that they might have been trying to escape the mob but were regarded as suspicious anyway.

The oil tank fire was reported under control Thursday night. But it spread with dull burning this afternoon from the oil tank where it started to other tanks in the storage yard.

Flames billowed high into the hot clear sky and shifting winds blew heavy black smoke down into homes and streets.

A thousand homes in the neighborhood were evacuated. Electricity in the area was shut off.

The contract was for 30 years and expired July 31, 1985, the city says. It also maintains that it is due "reasonable rent or compensation" for the property and that the railroad has refused to pay rent or negotiate.

Yesterday the railroad petitioned the federal court for removal of the case here. A ruling on the motion will be made later.

Tax Assessment Report to be a Warning

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Release of a report showing assessment level ratings for all Arkansas counties is expected today.

The Arkansas Assessment Co-ordination Department prepared the report after a 2-year program of converting the equalization law into practical application.

Percentage ratings of assessed valuation to actual real and personal property values will be listed.

Counties short of an 18 per cent level of valuations will have until Dec. 15 to raise their assessment levels. Under state law, failure to do so will result in a loss of some turnback funds.

The money penalty is the stiffest feature of the equalization act. Amounts to be withheld by the state treasurer will be based on what the Assessment Department reports as final percentage figures in December.

A percentage rating is based on a detailed three per cent sampling of all types of real and personal property valuations in each county. The sampling takes in utility assessments which are computed at a 20 per cent level of true market worth.

Since the state acted to make counties raise their assessment levels, 15 counties have completed reappraisal programs. Professional firms handled 14 of these and one program was handled locally.

As of July 10, according to a staff report, this was the reappraisal situation in the state:

Professional reappraisal complete: Washington, Union, Sebastian, Pulaski, Jackson, Columbia, DeSha, Benton, Conway, White, Woodruff, Cross, Calhoun and Crittenden counties.

Professional reappraisal in progress: Craighead, Greene, Poinsett, St. Francis, Dallas, Hot Spring, Ashley, Arkansas, Chicot, Montgomery, Logan, Phillips and Pope counties.

Local reappraisal complete: Perry County.

Local reappraisal in progress: Jefferson, Mississippi, Garland, Clark, Pryor, Fulton, Searcy, Carroll, Saline, Lawrence, Madison, Sharp, Hempstead, Grant, Cleveland and Baxter counties.

Preliminary work on reappraisal in progress: Crawford, Johnson, Boone, Newton, Cloburne, Yell, Clay, Randolph, Sevier, Faulkner, Marion, Van Buren, Stone, Franklin, Iard, Bradley, Lincoln, Ouachita, Lafayette, Independence, Nevada and Drew counties.

No action on reappraisal: Miller, Howard, Lee, Pike, Scott, Polk, Little River, Lemoke and Monroe counties.

Director Walter L. Hinton Jr. of the Assessment Co-ordination Department said yesterday that sev-

Gambling Case Witnesses Subpoenaed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Names of more witnesses from widely scattered parts of the nation were released yesterday by federal authorities preparing for a grand jury investigation of a Terre Haute, Ind., gambling syndicate.

The Federal Court Clerk's Office, making names of witnesses public as subpoenas are served and returned, listed two Evansville, Ind., men today but addresses of the others ranged from Texas to Washington, D.C.

Testimony is expected to begin Aug. 11 and the investigation may be a long one.

The case grew out of a raid last Nov. 29 in which six men were arrested on charges of failing to pay $50 federal wagering tax stamps, a misdemeanor, U. S. District Atty. Don A. Tabbart said.

He hopes to get excise tax evasion indictments against the six and possibly two or three others.

Tabbart said the syndicate was "a very large operation" taking in over a million dollars a month in telephone bets on sporting events over the nation.

Subpoenas returned yesterday included one for K. Barney Levine, 6 armed robbery and she was held on an open charge.

Slender, dark-haired Mrs. Simpson, 18, declined to say where, when or how she rejoined her 27-year-old husband after reporting his disappearance June 10 at Yakima, Wash.

She told police he disappeared during a game of hide-and-seek two days after they were married. The game started when they were driving around about 4 a. m. and spied a vacant lot Mrs. Simpson said.

He was to hide, and she was to seek.

Mrs. Simpson said she sat on the ground to wait for her husband to hide and fall asleep later he was awake a short time later he was gone.

MENA, Ark. (AP)—A fugitive from the state of Washington, who the FBI said her husband would never be taken alive, was captured late yesterday near the Oklahoma line west of here. Officers grabbed him when he stroled unarmed out of the cabin where he had been living with his teen-aged pregnant wife.

Sheriff Robert Hensley said Jack Carl Simpson, 33, was jailed on a fugitive warrant obtained by the FBI. Simpson's young wife also was taken into custody but there were no charges against her, Hensley said.

The sheriff said Simpson was wanted in Seattle on two charges of armed robbery and in Yakima, Wash., on a charge of second degree assault.

The couple had recently "hired up" in the cabin on U.S. Highway eral counties in the last group identified recently that they would get a reappraisal program started before December.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—This year's tax assessments on the 205 utilities and 770 common carriers supervised by the Arkansas Assessment Co-ordination Department total $220,767,815.

That figure is based on the Department's estimate that the overall worth of both types of facilities is $1,133,839,075.

Last year the Department set assessments of $220,333,800 on a valuation of $1,011,094,000.

A breakdown on each assessment has been mailed to county assessors, the department said yesterday.

Carl Berry, assistant director, announced these assessments against some of the larger utilities.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., $19,000,010 for 1958 compared to $17,830,010 in 1957; Arkansas Power & Light Co., $52,219,000 compared to $50,789,330; Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., $11,719,025 compared to $11,245,800; Missouri Pacific Lines $30,516,000 compared to $30,524,380; and Cotton Belt Lines, $11,083,000 compared to $10,544,400.

The Department reduced assessments against two carriers this year. They are the Kansas City Southern Railway, $4,284,000 compared to $4,370,000 in 1957, and Union Gas Co., $87,000 compared to $80,000 last year.

Berry said there were indications that Kansas City Southern and its subsidiary, the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway, and Union Gas might try to get a court to trim their assessments.

The two railroads have been battling their assessments for the past three years. And Berry said the gas firm indicated recently that it felt the Department included too much property in fixing its taxable assessment.

west of Honolulu. The blast was described as part of this summer's nuclear weapons test series in the Pacific.

The explosion was part of the current series of tests being carried on in the Pacific this summer by the United States.

Earlier, there had been reports from Honolulu that an explosion lighted up the sky there about 1 a. m. Johnston Island is about 700 miles southwest of Honolulu. An area around Johnston Island was designated a danger zone July 23 because of the proposed tests of missiles armed with nuclear warheads.

The AEC announcement said: "The test detonation of a nuclear warhead in a missile occurred above the Johnston Island area in the Pacific today. The test is part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons test series."

Honolulu police reported their switchboard had been jammed with countless calls asking about the explosion.

A woman who called said the explosion resembled "a ball of fire with a definite mushroom effect." She said it was plainly visible from Waikiki Beach and asked "Would you advise me to leave?"

Sorinadale Youth Fatally Injured

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Jimmy Wages of Route 1, Springdale, was injured fatally in a collision of two trailers near Tipton early today.

Wages was riding in the cab of a truck driven by his brother, Vernon, also of Springdale, who was injured seriously.

The second vehicle was driven by Carl Herbert Meyers of Fort Smith, who also had a brother, Lloyd, of Fayetteville, with him.

The Meyers brothers were cut and bruised, and Carl suffered a broken arm.

Jimmy Wages was dead on arrival at a Springdale hospital. His brother is being treated at the hospital.

270. Hensley said, Sheriff's officers spotted them when a resident of the area noticed that the car in front of the store was of the same make and had the same license number as contained in an FBI bulletin for Simpson's arrest.

County and city police joined two FBI agents from Fort Smith late yesterday afternoon in surrounding the cabin. The men inside Simpson was seized when he came outside, leaving a .32 caliber revolver on a bed, Hensley said.

Simpson is a former resident of this area. He left when he was five years old.

The sheriff said the girl, who says her name is 18, although Washington authorities listed her as 14, was held for her parents. He said Simpson had not told officers whether he would waive extradition.

Meyers declined to further identify Simpson's wife.

News Briefs

GUATEMALA (AP)—The United States is giving Guatemala a million dollars to build a vocational school.

Announcement of the grant was timed to coincide with the arrival today of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the U. S. President and his special fact-finding representative on a tour of Central America.

Anti-American students boycotted Dr. Eisenhower's visit but pledged that they would refrain from violent demonstrations. Communists who have retreated from exile since the assassination of anti-Communist President Carlos Castillo Armas also were expected to refrain from violence.

NEW YORK (AP)—An African leader said Tuesday night the colored peoples of Asia and Africa have had their fill of imperialism, racial superiority and colonialism.

Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, prime minister of Ghana, said there can be no real peace until relations with colored peoples are put on the basis of freedom, equality, mutual respect and dignity.

Nkrumah, an American-educated 40-year-old Negro, heads 18-month-old Ghana, an independent member of the British Commonwealth.

Nkrumah, visiting this country at President Eisenhower's invitation, spoke at a dinner.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (AP)—Folks were still dancing in the early hours of the morning today in celebration of Prince Albert's first visit from British royalty.

Princess Margaret stayed only 75 minutes in this 90-year-old agricultural center, but the celebration continued for hours after.

The princess took off by helicopter to spend the night in a summer resort north of here. She now goes to Toronto.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Richard Webb, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb of near Hot Springs, was killed yesterday

Girls, Take It From One of the All-Time Glamor Girls, Envy Is Enemy of Beauty

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Girls, do you know what is the worst enemy of feminine beauty?

Here's what Constance Bennett, one of filmdom's all-time glamor dolls, has to say:

"It is a resentful personality. Any woman who habitually harbors meanness and envy will find in time they will show in her face and make her unattractive."

Miss Bennetts one of the sprightliest daughters of her day, ran away from school to go to Hollywood, where she starred in 47 films and a number of marriages.

She was also perhaps the first movie star to earn a $35,000 weekly salary and one of the first lady film producers. Following the tradition of her gifted father, Richard Bennett, early matinee idol, she turned later to the stage.

Currently she is starring on the road in the hit comedy, "Auntie Mame," a vaudeville role that fits her like a girl.

Cohnie, who still tilts her famed long cigarette holder at the same rakish angle, gets an eternal kink out of living and has some strong opinions on why people get old.

"Youth consists merely in being enthusiastic with life—in not being bored with life," she said.

"I think people who do nothing but think about how they look are bored. You can get very old working about how to stay young."

The heroine of the famed Topper series thinks present-day movies are better than those of yesterday, but that actresses are less glamorous.

"Films now are more realistic and true to life," she said. "They don't grind them out like sausage as they used to."

"But those old tinsel films did make actresses seem glamorous, remote and unattainable."

"There aren't any Nina Naldis, Theda Baras and Pola Negris around any more. That style of glamor isn't exciting anymore."

"Styles change in glamor, just as in everything else."

"What is glamorous today? I think it is a combination of fresh natural beauty and sophistication rather than the exotic. Ingrid Bergman and Grace Kelly come first to mind."

"But anything—really obvious isn't glamorous — and that includes, in my opinion, actresses who look so sexy they seem to be bursting."

Whom did she have in mind? Oh, nobody in particular.

Thousands of times women have asked her for beauty secrets, but she said the only one she knew that makes real sense is this: "Be beautifully natural — and naturally beautiful."

when his motor scooter and a truck collided at an intersection here. Driver of the truck was identified by police as Marvin Cummings, 48, of Hot Springs.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Four-year-old Katherine Williams, Negro, of Pine Bluff was killed yesterday when an automobile driven by Oscar Jones, 20-year-old Pine Bluff Negro, struck her as she was crossing a street.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Tabor Metals, Inc., a Mena mining firm, filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State yesterday. The firm said it was starting business with $25,000 in capital and was authorized to issue 5,000 shares of stock at $10 a share.

Corporation Profits Take a Beating

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits of nearly four out of five corporations first half of the year for a knock-down of 32 per cent.

And the U. S. Treasury will suffer a tax loss of roughly similar percentage in collecting from corporate incomes.

But business cheered the second half of the year on the upbeat. And hopes are high that earnings will rise now and erase part of 1958's decline from 1957's net income after taxes.

The Treasury shares this hope as its new estimates of total collections show it expects its share of gross corporate earnings to top the first six months.

So far 570 corporations have reported their first six months earnings. Of these 417 show declines from the first half of 1957, some sharp ones.

And 39 of them operated at a net loss, compared to 16 in that fix a year ago.

But a sizable number of the 570 show that profits turned upward significantly in the April - May - June quarter. And many others feel that the low point has been reached. In the January-February-March quarter earnings of 580 corporations were off 33 per cent from the previous year.

A handful of industries have higher profits this year than last. Tobacco, drugs, foods, airlines and utilities are in this lucky class.

Hardest hit in the profit slide are the railroads. Only one of the 38 to report so far shows a gain and 10 of them are using red ink. For the group as a whole the decline is 71 per cent.

The auto industry and its suppliers suffer the second greatest drop, off 57 per cent as a group, with six reporting net losses. But this industry pips its hooves on the forthcoming new models which it thinks will help it regain much of the lost ground.

Almost tied with the car makers are the companies in the entertainment field.

The steel and iron industry, which dropped off 58 per cent in the first quarter, recovered some ground in the second. The decline for the first half is 52 per cent. Its second half results will be colored both by the wage scale boost, July 1 and the price rise now under way.

RUMORS

You have heard them — now I am hearing them too.

May I remind you, the voters of Hempstead County, that I am a candidate seeking one office, therefore due to have only one opponent in our Democratic Primary Election.

Considering this fact — and if you believe this is the time for a friendly change in our treasurer's office — I shall sincerely appreciate your continuing encouragement, then your support on August 12th.

Beth Bridgers
Bobby Gene Jones
Exchange Vows

Miss Beth Bridgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bridgers, and Bobby Gene Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones of Dimmitt, Texas, were married at six-thirty in the evening of July 30, in the First Methodist Church of Hope, Ark.

The Rev. Rufus F. Sorrells performed the impressive double ceremony, while Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, organist, had charge of the traditional wedding music. Mrs. Douglas Drake of Little Rock was the soloist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. The wedding gown had a full skirt of net over tulle. The lace bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged with sequins. It buttoned in the back and had cap sleeves. The bride wore lace mitts, and her finger-ring veil fell from a tiara of sequins. Her bridal bouquet of phalaenopsis and lilies of the valley was centered with an orchid.

Vows were exchanged before an arch entwined with greenery in the midst of candelabra and baskets of daisies and gladioli. Miss Rebecca Jane Teeter of Malvern, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Bill Jones, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Caldwell of Malvern, Mrs. Ed Sheehane of Hot Springs, and Mrs. Kenneth Leslie of Texarkana.

They were dressed identically in street-length dresses of yellow or-gandy over tulle with yellow sashes of a deeper hue. The frocks had necklines cut off the shoulder with puffed sleeves and full skirts. The attendants wore yellow nylon bandeaux trimmed with daisies and carried crescent bouquets of the same flowers.

Bill Jones of Dimmitt served his brother as best man. Ushers who also lighted the candles were Bill Bridgers, brother of the bride, and John Barr. Groomsman were Syd McMath, Jr., and Johnny Shell.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the basement of the church. The guests were greeted by Mrs. R. T. White who introduced them to those in the receiving line: the wedding couple, their parents, Mrs. Claude Mann of Malvern, grandmother of the bride, and members of the wedding party.

A color scheme of yellow, green, and white was used in the decoration of the bride's table which held a center arrangement of daisies and candelabra. Mrs. J. W. Mason, Jr., of Malvern served the tiered wedding cake and Mrs. G. L. Teeter, also of Malvern, poured the punch. Both are aunts of the bride.

Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. Harry Hawthorne, Mrs. E. W. Copeland, Mrs. Ross Moore, the Misses Byron Denison Hefner, Sheila Foster, Sharon Foster, Glinne Graves, Ann Cole, Linda Gilbert, Cynthia Forster, all of Hope, and Miss Martha Lou Blackwell of Warren.

Mrs. R. A. Jones had charge of the bride's book. Before the couple left for a honeymoon, Miss Susan Forster dispensed tiny bags of rice to the guests.

For travel the bride wore a two-piece, blue silk dress. Her accessories were black and white, and she planned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will be at home in Dimmitt, Texas.

Doris Ann Denny to marry Birkett Wylie
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Denny of Delight announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris Ann, to Birkett Wylie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Wylie of Hope. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. McKinney of Delight and Mr. and Mrs. E. Denny, also deceased. Grandparents of the bride-groom-elect are Mr. and Mrs. George Wylie, and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hershberger of Cleveland, Ohio.

The betrothed couple are students at Henderson State Teachers College in Arkadelphia. They will be married August 30 in the First Methodist Church of Delight, after which they will make their home in Fayetteville. There, Mr. Wylie plans to enter the University of Arkansas this fall.

WATERMELONS usually come single but twin melons are not so terribly rare. However, 50 pound twins, are indeed an exception. Jack Coffee, above, displays the twin melon at Quick-Sak Grocery.

Trying for Trip to Yellowstone

NEWSBOYS are working hard these days getting new starts and keeping up collections because the top boys will get an all-expense paid trip to Yellowstone National Park for their efforts. The winners will leave August 16 and return home in about two weeks. The contest is open to all boys on a point system giving even a new carrier a chance. Several carrier changes are to be made within a few days. Any boy interested should contact the Star office.

DOROTHY DIX

Even a Negligent Son Shares Mother's Love

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm writing for my very close, widow friend who has confided in me. She is a sweet, quiet, lovable person of 60. She does many things for others and is especially good to her family. She is financially independent and has four children, all living within a radius of 10 miles. Three of these children are wonderful to her. They visit her frequently, telephone often, take her out and are ready to help when she's ill. The fourth child, a son, rarely visits his mother and seldom phones. She is contemplating making a will, and therein lies the problem. Should she divide her estate equally among the four children or should she give the majority of it to the three faithful ones and a minimum share — or none at all — to the negligent son? — A Friend.

Dear Lady: What you, as a friend, want me to do is to give practical, hardheaded advice and tell you that the lady should cut out the negligent son and leave everything to the other three. I suppose that might be the logical thing to do, but maternal instinct takes no sock in practical, hardheaded logic. I assure you, the mother loves all her children equally, even the one who is indifferent. She would be unhappy, making the kind of will you suggest. Furthermore, she will always have the hope — which may well be realized someday — that the crying son will have a change of heart. No matter how unreasonable it seems to you, I advise her to leave the estate in four equal shares. I know in like circumstances that's what I'd do.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I notice you get many letters from girls who want advice about marrying older men. Perhaps my experience will help some of them. My husband was 14 years older than I, but he clipped seven years off his age when courting me. He was a thoroughly lovable and loving person. As he got older he did get a bit cantankerous, but I loved him anyhow. The children got on his nerves, and as time went on the differences in our ages became more apparent. At 67 he passed away and now I am a very lonely widow. The children are in their 20's and away so much. The gamble in marrying a much older man is that you become an old man while you are still middle-aged, and you will always, undoubtedly be left a widow. — D. B.

Dear D. B.: A very good summing up of a controversial point. Of course, marrying a man of compatible age is no guarantee of nonwidowhood. Statistically, every woman can expect to spend eight years of widowhood.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I went to a dance Sunday and met a nice boy named Eugene. He wants to come see me but I can't tell him he has my mother's permission. He thinks it's wrong for a strange boy to call on me. Shirley.

Dear Shirley: Have the young man phone your mother and ask permission for a visit. That should satisfy both parties — and, incidentally, you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When I first met Tim I fell hard for him. When he asked me to "move in,"

French Lower Hemline by Several Inches

PARIS (AP) — Dior designer Yves Saint-Laurent today lowered the hemline by several inches—about 13 inches from the floor.

Saint-Laurent's hemline was up to five inches lower than those of other Paris fashion houses whose fall and winter collections have been shown so far. Their skirts have cleared the floor by as much as 20 inches.

The House of Dior's new "curve" line curves both shoulders and skirts. The silhouette is hort-waisted but not truly Empire.

A five-inch drop in length caught every other major house with skirts hiked up to the knee.

The difference in the Dior mid-calf length is enough to look revolutionary — especially as it is combined with an entirely new shape.

Saint-Laurent's silhouette is softly rounded, medium fullness caught in with unpressed folds or pleats by a belt a couple of inches below the bustline.

It has little or nothing in common with the high-waisted, short-skirted Empire line seen everywhere else this season.

It looks as if young Saint-Laurent, having tasted success with his first collection last spring, wants to show who is master of the mode.

Applause, which started early in the showing, broke out time and again and swelled to an uproar at the end of the show.

The "curve" line appeared first in a suit. The jackets were scooped up in front with the skirts standing off the hips and curving gently in at the mid-thigh hemline.

Coat coats covered matching dresses in the same silhouette but by cocktail clothes down to slender tubes ample enough not to touch the body while others swelled out in puff balls.

Necklines are so low-scooped that they cut Dior's star mannequin out of the parade. Exotic Alla, watching from the audience, said she was too thin to wear the new décolletage, which is revealing indeed. As one spectator remarked: "If you wear that, you'd better not sneeze."

Live Shows Are Better Than Films

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Other things being equal and they never are, I'll take live people over filmed people on TV anytime. In real life, of course, its different — all of my best friends are on film.

Anyway, Tuesday night I caught CBS-TV's new game show, "Keep Talking," and I found it pretty diverting. I'm not quite sure why because structurally the show falls on almost every count: It's scornful system is absurd, wrong answers are accepted all over the place and its game is shot through with more holes than my head, as my public tells me.

But it does have live people — if you'll grant me that show business performers are people — and those people are trapped in a pressure situation that generates boos and occasional bon-bons.

If you haven't seen the show, I should explain the game in detail to you. But I won't. I can mean that way. But I will say it has something to do with panelists trying to fit absurd phrases into a story line without tripping off the point at which the phrases have been inserted and, aw, it's too complicated, watch for yourself.

Tuesday night the phrases included such nutcases as "The Arkadark is a burrowing African mammal with a long prehensile tongue" and "Well, well, Wallingford, imagine running into you in Moombique." Panelists like Roger Price, Danny Daylon, Louis Nye and Pat Curriel seemed to have a fine time kicking them around.

Like ABC-TV's "Pantomime Quiz" and NBC-TV's "Jack Paar Show," "Keep Talking" is a show whose chief staple is cheerful chaos. And in all for more cheerful chaos on TV. Right now, TV is suffering from too much somber filmed order. Bring on Babel and beglam.

Short Shets: Attention, Groucho Marx: NBC-TV's "Win With A Winner" came up with this question Tuesday night — "Who is buried in Grants' Tomb?" The correct answer was — General Grant — and his wife.

I watched the first half of NBC-TV's "The Investigator" Tuesday night and I'd like to say something about it except that I'm not sure I even understood it. A cat ran across the stage during CBS-TV's "To Tell The Truth" Tuesday night and earlier in the day a growl got loose on the set of NBC-TV's "Today."

Daddy Goodman dropped in for the first birthday of the NBC-TV "Jack Paar Show" Tuesday night and it was all joyousness. It was a little stiff. The show itself was disappointing — its best moments were in its private 11-man band last March because of his "too hot swing." At that time the Reds decreed that swing bands could play only 40 per cent Western music and stepped up their campaign against rock 'n' roll.

TODAY'S 2 MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE TALKING CARDS
Twenty-third of a series
by Donald J. Sobol

"Jackson held his usual Friday poker party last night. He won all the money—more than $11,000," said Inspector Winters.

"The game broke up about 3 this morning. Jackson was shot at about 10:30. We searched the apartment without locating the winners. It looks like one of his friends couldn't afford to lose so heavily and came back.

"If that theory is sound, there are five suspects, the men who played last night—Judge Alfred Vance, Gordon Morehead, Patrick Seaman, Tim Regan, and William Rice.

"I spoke with the Judge by telephone. He said everyone lost about an equal sum to Jackson. All five are bachelors, live by themselves, and might have come and gone unnoticed."

"Nothing's been touched?" asked Haledjian.

"No," replied the inspector. "You can follow what happened by the trail of blood on the carpet. Jackson was shot in the middle of the room. He collapsed, mortally wounded, but lived long enough to crawl to the card table."

"The murdered man sat with his head and arms fallen onto the table. By his left hand was a heap of cards, overturned. By his right was the remainder of the deck, neatly together, face down. Within arm's reach were five cards, three aces and two queens.

"Aces full . . ." mused Haledjian. "A 700 to 1 shot on the first deal if I recall my odds correctly."

He turned suddenly to the inspector. "I should start my questioning with Patrick Seaman."

WHY?

Detroit's Lary Wins Only From the Top Teams

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Frank Lary, Detroit's flaming right-hander, does it the hard way. He wins only from the top teams and loses only to the bottom clubs. It's not quite like that, but almost.

Look at the record Lary has won 10 games and lost the same number. Five victories have come against the American League leaders New York Yankees, three have been won only once, three triumphs have come at the expense of the second-place Boston Red Sox, who have not beaten him at all.

That leaves Lary with a record of 2-5 against the five other teams, none of which can boast a .500 won-lost record.

Lary permitted the Red Sox on July four hits Thursday to win a 3-2 hurling duel from rookie Bill Monbouquette. A disputed eighth inning double by Frank Bolling, which drove in Billy Martin with the winning run, gave him his 10th victory.

The Yankees avenged two straight losses to Kansas City, flattening the A's 5-3 behind the pitching of winner Duke Mase and Johnny Kucks. Rain forced the postponement of scheduled games between Baltimore and Cleveland as well as Washington and Chicago.

In the National League, Milwaukee defeated Los Angeles 4-1, Cincinnati came from behind to nip San Francisco 10-9, Chicago topped Pittsburgh 5-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 4-3.

The Yankees manhandled five Kansas City hurlers for 13 hits, with everybody but the pitchers participating in the attack. Gil McDougald had a pair of doubles and Elston Howard and Norm Siebern had one each. Siebern drove in three runs and Howard two.

U. S. Atomic Weapons Are More Deadly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today reported development of new types of atomic and hydrogen weapons which can be put to deadly use more quickly than earlier models.

The Atomic Energy Commission in its 24th semiannual report to Congress said weapons models have been improved and new types of weapons—smaller, more efficient, more rugged, and more immediately ready—have been developed to meet the requirements of the armed forces toward preserving the peace.

The commission said that during the period covered by the report — January through June — America's arsenal of nuclear weapons continued to be expanded rapidly.

Among other highlights of the report, which told in general terms of progress in the nation's military and peacetime atomic program, were these:

1. The effort to produce atomic propulsion for manned aircraft and unmanned missiles continued to gain momentum. No details were given.
2. Receipts of uranium raw materials from both domestic and foreign sources were an all-time high and production rates of usable fissionable and fusible materials exceeded the goals.
3. Significant and steady progress has been made toward the goal of harnessing the H-bomb fusion reaction to produce peacetime industrial power, but the quest still remains a long-range program.
4. Results of the underground explosion of a small atomic bomb in Nevada last September indicate that devices 100 times as powerful can be safely fired underground.
5. AEC scientists have improved their techniques for using atomic materials in the treatment of cancer.

Witnesses Hold Baptist Ceremonies

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses, clad in bathing suits, were baptized in ceremonies today in the calm waters of Long Island Sound off Orchard Beach in the Bronx.

Spectators, also in the thousands crowded behind police barriers at each end of a 400-foot strip of beach set aside for the ceremony. Many of the spectators also were Witnesses, here for their Divine Will International Assembly.

The candidates for baptism, estimated at between 5,000 and 6,000, moved into the water in groups of about 50. Some 90 baptisms put them through the ceremony in 80-degree water.

The Witnesses hold that complete immersion is a symbol of the end of one life and the beginning of a new one dedicated to God's will.

SEW WHAT'S NEW? Shades of the old 10-20-30 melodrama, Bertha the Sewing Machine Girl! It's not Bertha—it's screen star Joanne Woodward. You've heard about the dress she ran up for her big night—the one when she won an Oscar. Well, an Atlanta, Ga., museum wanted it for their wardrobe collection. Joanne gave them a lady-like "No!" saying "I spent nearly $100 for the material, designed the dress and worked on it for three weeks. Why, I'm almost as proud of the dress as I am of the Oscar!"

AWAY FROM THE OFFICE—Relaxing from the hustle and bustle of his job as premier of Italy, Amintore Fanfani spends a quiet evening at his home in Rome. Son Giorgio, 6, one of Fanfani's seven children, does a little kibitzing.

POW-WOW—Indian meets Indian meets Indian in Cleveland, Ohio. M. D. Moses, left, of Nagpur, India; Julio Huayllara of Puno, Peru, center, and James H. Johnson, a Mohawk Indian of Hagersville, Ontario, Canada, are all attending the 48th Quadrennial World Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists. Moses is president of the church's North Maharashtra Mission in Bombay State. Huayllara heads welfare and radio work at the Lake Titicaca Mission in Peru. Johnson is local church leader on the Six-Nation Reserve some 60 miles north of Toronto. The big Indian smiling in the background is the symbol of another tribe—the Cleveland Indians baseball club.

DATE THEY REMEMBER—Looking forward to a four-in-one birthday party at Monday, Feb. 14, Pat Emerson, 15, points to Feb. 14 on the calendar. Pat and his three sisters, from left, Sandra, 8; Charlene, 8; and Kathryn, 10, were all born on that date.

GETTING THE LOW-DOWN—Flying at treetop-level between two small islands calls for tricky piloting of this 200-ton Boeing B-52 Stratofortress. It is cruising along the coast of Washington on a special low-level flight carried out by Boeing Aircraft Co. to test the performance of equipment designed for operation at high altitudes. The treetop run was cleared by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, and residents of Washington and Oregon were warned not to be startled by the immense bomber skimming over the waves, sometimes less than 200 feet above the water. It is believed to be the first time that an airplane the size and speed of the B-52 has flown for any prolonged period at such a low altitude. It was an uneasy feeling at first, reported Don Knutson, Boeing senior B-52 experimental pilot.

GOLDEN TRAIL—Western wealth, old and new, shares a highway near Cortez, Colo., where a herd of cattle is overtaken by an oil truck. The truck is carrying crude oil from what may be the richest oil strike in U.S. history at the Four Corners area of the Rockies. The area gets its name from a small monument marking the only place in the nation where a person can stand in four states at once—Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Utah. Experts say the once barren wasteland may yield up to a billion barrels of oil.

ROCKET RIDE—Dummy "instructor" in rocket-powered ejection seat shoots skyward from forward fuselage section of the Northrop-developed U.S. Air Force T-38 supersonic trainer. The fuselage, mounted on a rocket sled, streaks along track at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., in test of T-38 pilot escape system. Rocket-powered seats, designed to provide maximum clearance as well as low-level ejection, are now development and are expected to be an improvement over conventional cartridge-type ejection systems.

PIGGYBACK—There's been a lot of kidding about those little foreign cars being small enough to fit in the trunk of an American car, well, it's almost true. Frank Elliott, a Bedford, Ohio, auto dealer, is using this rolling advertisement to offset the effects of the recession. So far, says Elliott (at the wheel), he's been averaging three new car sales every two days, against a pre-July average of 22 cars a month. P.S. Under the piggyback bargain rate the Isotta costs the purchaser $550.00.

JET AGE RIVALS—Visitors to the recent British Columbia Centennial Aviation Show at Vancouver got a chance to compare Russian and U.S. commercial jet airliners parked at the airport. In the foreground, above, is America's showpiece, the Boeing 707, powered by four Pratt & Whitney J47 engines. The twin-jet Tupolev TU-144, background, is a veteran of service in the Soviet Aeroflot national airline, but the 707 will be able to carry more passengers at higher speeds when it goes into service. Comparison view illustrates design ideas in the two countries, reflected both in military and commercial aircraft. Russians make the jet engine an integral part of the wing and, while Americans favor the underslung type.

A REMINDER—Effective Aug. 1, the three-cent letter will go the way of the five-cent phone call. First class mail is raised to 4 cents and air mail to 7 cents an ounce. Other new rates are: post and postal cards, 3 cents; air post and postal cards, 5 cents; and third class mail, 3 cents for the first 2 ounces.

UNDERGOES SURGERY—Doctors in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, performed an emergency operation on Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac's right leg to halt a thrombosis condition threatening his life. The 60-year-old Cardinal served five years in jail after being convicted in October, 1946, of alleged war crimes against the Yugoslavian government of Marshal Tito.

WHAT'S WITH KUWAIT?—Visit of Egypt's Nasser to Sheikh Abdullah, Aug. 5, at 11 a.m. above, ruler of oil-rich Kuwait, stirs speculation about future of that sheikdom on the Persian Gulf. It is from Kuwait that Britain gets most of her Mideast oil.

RIDING THE TRUNK LINE—Maria Piazzani, Spanish movie actress visiting Ceylon, gets a jumbo hug from Ransi, one of the trained elephants in Colombo's famous Dehiwala Zoo. Ransi was a bit too enthusiastic so the trainer gives him a poke that means "Go easy!"

80-TON BITE—One of the biggest power shovels ever built, the River Queen, was recently put in operation near Central City in the western Kentucky coal field. The big shovel is capable of biting out more than 80 tons of rock and earth at one time. Note size of scoop as compared with bus below and men standing in its mouth.

CROWNED CRANE—An African Crowned Crane sits for a portrait at Grandon Park Zoo in Miami, Fla. Its fine feathers would make any haughty-conscious female envious.

WALKING ON WATER—Wayne Wilson, a York, Pa., engineer, strides along inside a 300-pound plastic bubble he dreamed up. The strange-looking craft, which Wilson claims is unsinkable, enables its passengers to walk on water without getting wet. Described in Popular Mechanics magazine, the bubble has a series of "paddles" which push it along while Wilson walks inside, twirling the globe around him like a squirrel cage.
